ODAROLOC

Foreword . . .

We might have entitled this year's Odoroloc "Keyhole Peeking Around Boulder High" because of the theme we chose. At best a yearbook can give only a keyhole glimpse of the year's highlights, and if we succeed in stirring up a few memories and things forgotten, our mission is accomplished.

For most seniors May 28 is the end of a settled, complacent life. We aren't quite sure where we go from here, what we'll be doing in two years, or where we're going to live. Our only inkling of what will happen next is what we see in the keyhole of the door to our future. Here's hoping that when we find the key to fit that door, we won't be disappointed in what lies beyond the keyhole.

Dedication . . .

Because we believe 1945 and 1946 to be the most important years in the history of the world, and because we believe that if it had not been for the sacrifice made by a million Americans, there might never again be high schools nor football games nor a chance in life for any of us, we dedicate to our war dead the 1946 Odaroloc. But, in a larger sense, we dedicate not merely a book, but our purpose in life to those who gave their life that our nation might live.

Our generation will win the peace or lose the world. Our gratitude to those who died in this war can be expressed only by the completion of the unfinished work which they have thus far so nobly advanced. "It is rather for us, the living, to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Senior Class . . .

The senior year at high school is full of activity. Under the leadership of Kendall Hills, student body president; Kay Hutchison, president of the senior class; and Patsy Bennett, senior treasurer, the senior class has participated in and sponsored many activities.

Senior boys referee at such junior-sophomore tussels as the Flagrush and Roughhouse. Near Christmas time comes the Senior Prom, the year's first formal dance. The Senior play is given for the school on St. Nick's Day, just before Christmas vacation. Each graduating class presents the school with a class gift; this year, seniors voted to donate a sports record plaque to be placed in the gym. The senior fall fry is an annual event.

Many activities come all at once at the end of the year. Seniors take their final exams before juniors and sophomores, and spend their time during "Senior Week" attending the events given in honor of the graduating class. Conditions permitting, the class travels to Denver to spend time at an amusement park; class day exercises given by seniors provide entertainment for the whole school; senior girls entertain their mothers at a tea given the afternoon of class day; the class breakfast comes at 5:00 in the morning. Spare time is taken up with rehearsals for graduation, which this year fell on May 29. No doubt about it, seniors get a big send-off when they say goodbye to Minnie 'n Jake.

Juniors . . .

"Co-operation" would be a good word to describe the 1945-46 junior class. As sophomores they stuck together and elected all three All-Prep Day officers, king, queen, and jester from their class. The same year they co-operated to win both paper drives, the Roughhouse and the annual Flagrush.

Besides co-operating with the school and their classmates, the junior class is noteworthy for the number of individual honors received by its members. In the field of sports, several junior boys have received mention in all-conference and all-state teams. Tom Surguine won the 1945 Vodvil cup, Ed Bosin took first place in the school's oratorical contest, several juniors have had leads in dramatic and operatic productions, and others have been prominent scholastically.

Junior sponsors were Miss Onah Torrence and Robert Hamilton.

Sophomore Class . . .

Although this year, for the first time in 23 years, the sophomores lost the traditional Flagrush, the Onies rallied quickly to win the Roughhouse with a score of 23 to 19.

Under the leadership of Kent Rogers, Toot King, and his advisors, Alta Jean McIntosh and Don Love, this year's Onies have proved themselves capable and willing to assume their share of responsibility and to take part in school activities.

This year's sophomores were a sporting group as is proved by the number of Onies making the first and second strings in football, basketball, and wrestling. The Onies have also proved their worth in track, giving the senior boys a close race.

Football Summary . . .

With a scant two weeks of practice under their belts, Boulder High's Panther gridgers swung into action for the first time in the 1945 season against East High of Denver. After putting up a brilliant battle for three quarters they finally succumbed to two last-quarter touchdowns and fell to the powerful Angels by a score of 20 to 12.

Traveling to Colorado Springs on September 19 the Panthers lost a heart-breaker to the Terrors by a 7-to-6 decision. An attack of fumblitis, which had hampered them the previous week turned into an "epidemic" as the local lads fumbled a total of 23 times, with the alert Springers recovering almost half of these bobbles. The final gun sounded with Boulder in possession of the ball just four yards from the goal line.

Returning to the home gardens for the third and final practice game of the season the Panthers finally caught fire as they roared back in the final half to trounce Longmont, their traditional rivals, by a tune of 33-to-20.

Opening the conference season here against Fort Collins, Coach Opdycke's charges battled the mighty Lambkins to a 19-to-19 deadlock in a very evenly played game.

The second conference tilt brought better news as the Panthers ground out a 26-to-0 victory over Greeley's outclassed Wildcats on a rain-drenched gridiron.

A two-touchdown spurt in the final period brought the Panthers' second conference win as they bounced back to down Loveland's Indians by a 20-to-7 verdict after the Tribe had put up a brilliant fight for three quarters.

After a break of two weeks the locals returned to the football wars in an engagement with Englewood's Pirates. The bold, bad Buccaneers proved to be neither too bold nor too bad as they took a 26-to-14 pasting from the Panthers who were in command all the way.

On November 12 the Panthers journeyed to Longmont for their annual Armistice Day clash with the Trojans.

This contest, the last conference game of the season, had particular significance, for it was also to determine whether Boulder would become co-champions of the Northern conference and also gave the chance to battle Fort Collins for the right to enter the play-offs for the state title.

After three hard-fought quarters which saw the Trojans hold the local ball-toters to a 7-7 tie, the Boulder crew finally broke loose for two touchdowns in the final stanza to win the crucial contest by a 20-to-7 count.

Four days later the flu-stricken Panthers journeyed to Fort Collins where they dropped a 19-to-0 decision to the Lambkins. A few costly fumbles and penalties which nullified two touchdowns proved too much for the local gridgers as they bowed out of the 1945 season to a Fort Collins team which went on to win the state championship in rather an easy fashion.

Basketball Summary . . .

Climaxing the best season in the history of the school, Boulder's basketballers came through to cop both the Northern conference and state class "A" championships.

After a slow start, which saw the Panthers lose practice encounters to Manual and East of the Denver league, and drop their conference opener to Longmont, the local lads found their stride and roared back to take twelve straight and capture the conference and state diadems. These wins, coupled with four other victories in practice sessions, gave the Purple and Gold the very enviable record of sixteen wins and only three losses.

With hopes at a low ebb following their 27 to 26 loss to Longmont, the Boulderites, ably coached for the third straight year by Coach LeRoy Opdycke, began the long pull upwards. Playing before a home crowd, the Panthers showed signs of better things to come as they started the long climb by coming from behind in the final minutes to nip Greeley 28 to 27.

With the victory scent once more present, the Panthers scalped Loveland 47 to 34, edged out Englewood 37 to 36, and then spanked Fort Collins 36 to 27, to finish the first round tied with Longmont for the loop lead.

Tackling the Trojans in a game to decide the conference lead, the local hoopsters came from behind in the last half to nose the Longmont lads by a count of 31 to 27. Traveling to Greeley the following week Coach Opdycke's charges warmed up in the last half to overwhelm the Wildcats 46 to 26. With the state tournament in sight, the Panthers really let loose—trampling Loveland, 62-27; Englewood, 57-36; and trimming Fort Collins 49-40 in the conference finale.

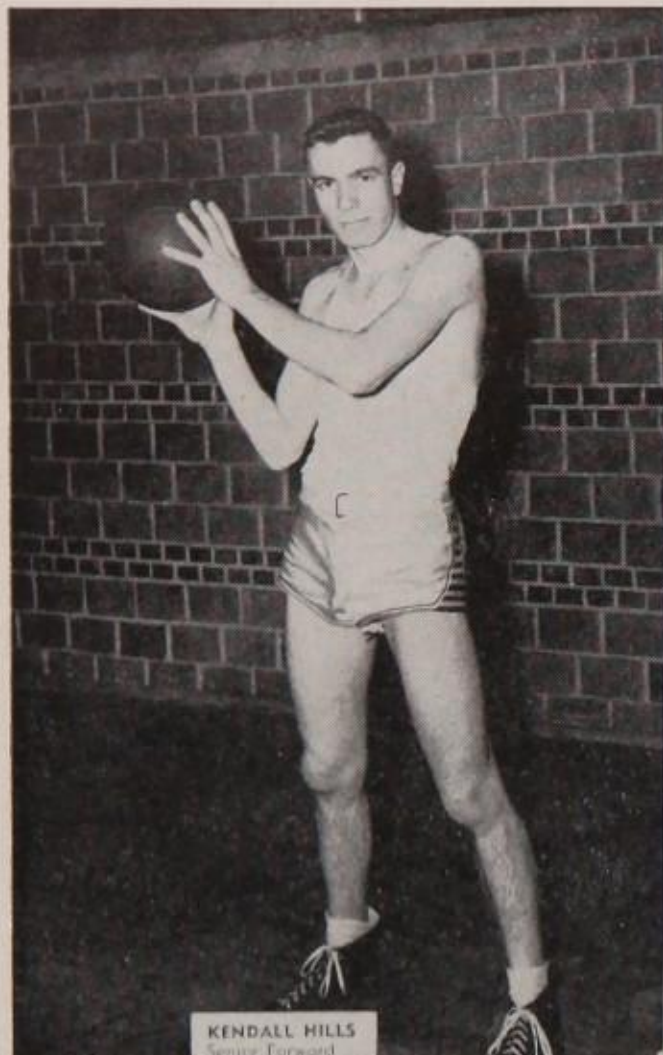

Opening state tournament play, Boulder hit a red-hot Canon City quintet and were forced into an overtime before they downed the Tigers 48 to 46. In the semi-finals the locals overcame a halftime deficit to trip East 41-38 and avenge their early season loss.

Tangling in the state finals with their arch loop rivals from Longmont, Boulder High's "not-to-be-denied" Panthers had their easiest game of the tournament as well as the easiest of their three encounters with the Trojans as they clipped Longmont by a score of 35 to 28.

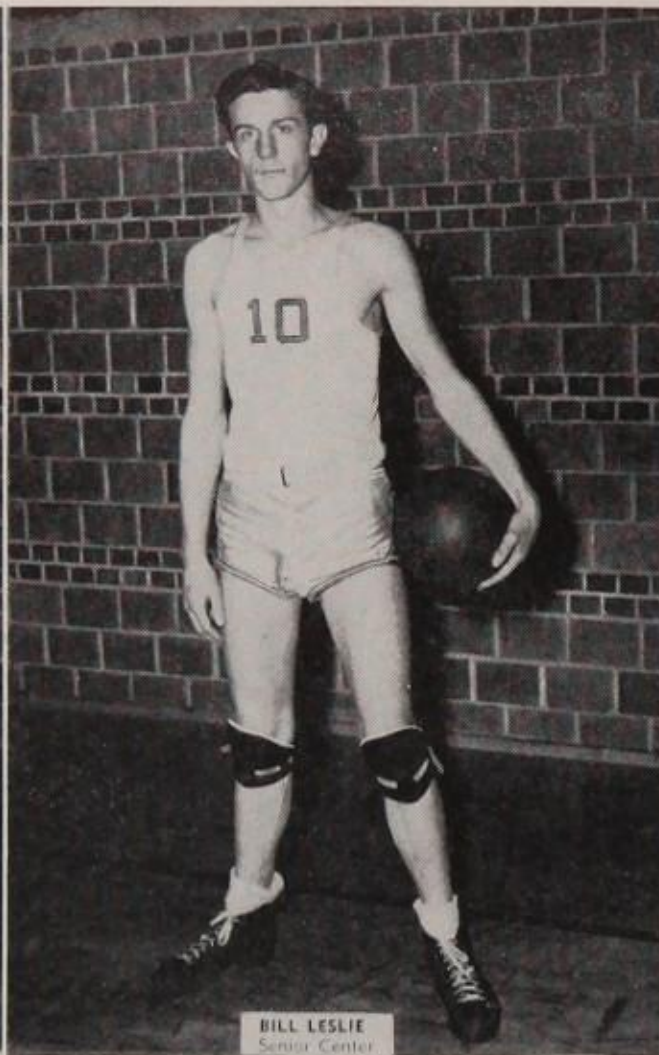

Orchids to Coach Opdycke and the Panthers for a job well-done.

Wrestling Summary . . .

Under the leadership of Coaches Charles Swisher and Paul Rose, Boulder's wrestling team emerged with a fairly successful season, considering that this was but the second year in which wrestling was a major sport at Boulder High.

The local grapplers broke even in six matches held during the season, winning three and losing as many. Two of the victories were over Loveland by scores of 27 to 12 and 30 to 28 while the third was at the expense of Greeley, 26-24. The Panthers lost to Fort Collins 29-25, and 42-10 and also were dealt a 34-18 setback by Greeley.

In the conference meet the Boulderites finished in fourth place when the final tabulations had been compiled. Jesse Hooper at 133 pounds and Alan Lacy, 112, both placed second to top the Panthers.

The team as a whole showed up well in the first round of the state tournament, but keener competition cut the Panthers out in the later rounds. Alfred Borrego, 103 pounds, and Bill Arnold at 154 were tops for Boulder, finishing in fourth and third places respectively.

Track Summary . . .

Track prospects for Boulder High looked reasonably bright at the start of the cinder season with an overflow turnout of over seventy aspiring candidates. Lettermen were not too numerous, however, with only five numeral winners returning from the squad which last year gained the runner-up spot in the state track meet.

These lettermen were Russell Morrison, speed merchant and broad jumper; Kendall Hills, who specializes in the high jump and pole-vault and also runs both hurdles; Bob Keatley, weightman; Joe Nix, pole-vaulter, and Bob LeMarr, half-miler.

On April 10 the Panther cinder burners were hosts to Longmont in the annual dual meet held between the two schools. The local lads could not quite match the Trojans, however, and lost out by a score of 63 to 56. A weakness in the longer runs proved to be the prominent factor in the downfall of the Boulderites.

TRACK—returning lettermen—LaMarr, Hills, Coach Swinscoe, Nix, Morrison.

The Panthers were triumphant in a triangular meet with Longmont and Loveland piling up  $65\frac{1}{2}$  points to top Longmont with  $60\frac{1}{2}$  and Loveland with 24. The locals rolled up their points on five firsts, seven seconds, seven thirds, three fourths, a tie for third and a tie for fourth.

Morrison emerged from the annual Colorado University Relays as the only two-even winner among the long line of prepsters entered in the competition. He tied the 100-yard dash record and won the broad jump.

Just whether the local spikesters will be able to retain the conference crown they won last year is a bit uncertain, and due to the deadline, the Odaroloc was unable to print the result of the season's activities. The Panthers, under the tutelage of Coaches Ed Swinscoe and Clyde Gelwick, have shown considerable improvement and had a good chance of keeping the conference diadem in Boulder, as well as giving East Denver a battle for the state crown which the Angels are favored to annex for the third year in a row.

Students holding major offices, such as club presidents or class officers, are ex-officio members of the student council.

KENDALL HILLS
President

Christian F. Recht was faculty sponsor of the council this year. Head Boy Kendall Hills acted as president, Head Girl Kay Hutchison was vice-president, Joe Nix filled the office of secretary, and Kent Rogers was treasurer.

In addition to sponsoring the assembly and social committees, this year's council has aided in the furnishing of the social room, kept exhibits in the trophy cases, furnished an honor roll for BHS students and graduates who served in the war, and provided a purple and gold banner for football and basketball games.

Its purposes are to develop skill and sportsmanship in the various sports, to promote healthy, outdoor living, and to provide extracurricular fun and activity. During the year tournaments are held in bowling, ping-pong, basketball, and baseball, giving every member opportunity to participate as much as desired. At intervals—parties, hikes, or other activities are carried out by the whole group. At the end of the year awards, earned by activity in the organization, are presented at the annual banquet.

PATRICIA
McMILLIN
President

The 1945-46 officers of GAA are: president, Patty McMillin; vice-president, Betty Jean Thomas; secretary, Lois Hilburn, and treasurer, Trudy Culver. The sponsors of the organization are Miss Helen Schlytern and Miss Clara Mae Place.

In addition to offering the opportunity for wholesome after-school activity, GAA carries out a desirable community project each year. This year they provided a happy Christmas for one large family by supplying them with a set of clothes and a toy for each child. Earlier in the year they contributed to the canned goods drive, and also gave $25 to the Red Cross for rehabilitation.

By managing a 51-27 defeat over Long Panthers put themselves in the number one position of the season, although one of the scrappiest of the conference, the Panthers are in the lead of the conference, every game this week no exception. In the first meeting of the two teams, Boulder was victorious by one point which shows them to be the better team. And playing on the Wildcat floor will be a handicap for the Panthers, although this certainly will be a deciding factor. If the locals are on they should tuck victory into the bag before coming home from Greeley.

The OWL, Boulder high school's official student newspaper, is edited by the members of the journalism II class and is distributed weekly.

The OWL has a two-fold purpose—to inform students of school happenings and to offer an opportunity for journalism students to gain practical experience. The OWL is printed at the Miner and Journal where students are allowed to aid in the technical production of the paper.

Support for the many school activities during the year, is found in the news and editorials of the OWL. High honors for the publication were won when a certificate of International Honor Rating, the highest that is awarded, was given the OWL by the Northwestern University school of journalism.

Activities sponsored by the OWL staff during the year include the successful "Hidden Talent" show, this year based on a circus theme, as well as several dances, including the annual All-Prep Day Sunrise dance.

Financial backing for any yearbook is a major problem and ODAROLOC funds were derived from subscriptions from the student body, picture subscriptions from clubs and organizations and from the sale of advertising to Boulder merchants and business houses.

Boulder High School Band

The band, under the direction of Randall Spicer, turned in a good record of fine performances throughout the year. The band appeared at every home game during football season and attended out-of-town games whenever possible adding much to the games in the form of school spirit and half-time entertainment.

In addition to the school and community activities the band takes active part in the state music contest held every spring for high school music groups and soloists, this year winning a "No. 1" rating.

Besides the concert given on Memorial day, the band gave two other concerts throughout the year. Their winter concert, which is an annual affair, was given in January, and their spring concert was given in April just before the contest at which time the numbers prepared for the contest were played.

One of the band's greatest honors of the season came when it was selected to represent Colorado in a publication entitled, "First Chair of America" or "Who's Who in American High School Bands." A group picture of the band appeared with individual pictures of the first chair players with a write-up of the band's accomplishments throughout the season being included.

Each year the senior choir presents an operetta which is usually one of Gilbert and Sullivan's. Last Spring the chosen operetta was "Patience" which was directed by Warner Imig.

The plot centered around a group of love-sick maidens who were all in love with Bunthorne. However, Bunthorne was in love with the milk maid, Patience. The childhood sweetheart of Patience arrived on the scene and at his arrival Patience refused to marry Bunthorne. At this decision Bunthorne decided to auction himself to the maidens, but the auction was interrupted by the intrusion of Patience who has decided to marry Bunthorne instead of the "perfect man," Grossvenor. Further action results, however, in Patience marrying Grossvenor and Bunthorne being left without a bride.

Thespians

Because Thespians is one of the few organizations requiring its members to possess special talent, the membership is small, but its list of activities is large. The requisite for membership in a National Thespian organization is ten points, earned by being in the cast of major productions or working on various stage crews for the plays.

The aim of the Thespians is to promote interest in dramatic productions, to provide entertainment for spectators and wholesome recreation for participants.

At the beginning of the year, Thespians elected Marion Fowler president; James Hutchinson, secretary-treasurer; Keith Hopkins, program chairman and Tom Worcester, council representative. Miss Ada Burton, dramatics coach, is faculty sponsor of the group.

MARION FOWLER

Each spring, students who have earned membership in Thespians are initiated at a banquet held in May. Those who became new Thespians this year are: Mary Lou Hawkins, Jack Reich, Howard Klemme, Mary Ellen Cooke, Pat Broxon, Bob Binkley and Bob Dalton.

Boulder high school's chapter of the Future Farmers of America is sponsored by Charles Swisher and Galen Kossler serves as president.

The FFA, as is their usual program, held a number of out-of-school activities, including a dinner to which they invited their parents. Probably their most important activity was the entering of the annual state stock and grain judging contests which were held in Fort Collins.

Six boys represented the Boulder chapter and won two first places and four ratings of good. Bill Githens placed first in grains and Art Toedtli won a first for stock judging. Don Booze served as the local representative to the state FFA convention which was held in conjunction with the contests.

Panther Club

During the school year of 1943-44, a small group of enthusiastic students conceived the idea of the Panther club. In general it was to be a combination night club and social center.

The club was planned to be open every afternoon after school and in the evening until ten—later on Friday and Saturday nights.

Because of war conditions, restrictions, and prices the original Panther club plan was set aside. The school social room was opened and sponsored by the Panther club during the 1944-45 school year.

The program provided during the 1945-46 school year consisted of a variety of activities with a reduced price for participation. Among these activities were movies and bowling once a week at a reduced price, and Panther club dances as often as possible with no charge to members.

It is our sincere hope that the idea and spirit of the original Panther club plan will continue to live, in order that the recreational improvements of Boulder might always have sufficient support.

The Panther club committee was composed of Jim Hutchinson, president, Mary Danielson and Leo Cullen. Byron Alexander and Marjorie Baron served as sponsors of the club.

THE FOURTH ESSENTIAL

Three essentials of printing—just printing—are type, ink and paper. But printing that's attractive and resultful has a fourth essential—

SKILL!

Money can buy the first three—but not the fourth! It's made up of natural ability plus long experience.
